DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restriction

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-28, 105-115, drawn to amino acid antigens, classified in class 424, subclass 248.1.
 - II. Claims 29-55, drawn to nucleic acid molecules, classified in class 536, subclass 23.7.
 - III. Claims 56-79, drawn to method of immunizing using amino acid antigens, classified in class 424, subclass 184.1.
 - IV. Claims 80-104, drawn to method of immunizing using nucleic acids, classified in class 514, subclass 44.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II, IV are drawn to structurally and functionally distinct molecules.

Invention I is drawn to amino acids, Inventions II, IV are drawn to nucleic acids.

Inventions I and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case, the amino acid antigens of Invention I can be used in vitro for diagnosis of infection with Mycobacterium.

Art Unit: 1645

Invention II and III are drawn to structurally and functionally distinct molecules.

Invention II is drawn to nucleic acids, Invention III is drawn to amino acids.

Invention II and IV are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case, the nucleic acids of Invention II can be used in vitro for diagnosis of infection with Mycobacterium.

Invention III and IV are drawn to patentably distinct methodologies which utilized different reagents.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above, have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, and because while the searches may overlap, the searches are not coextensive, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(I).

Election of Species

2. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

Chose one of the antigens listed in claim 18.

Chose one of the adjuvants listed in claim 25

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claims are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Art Unit: 1645

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
